Siloam Missionary Homes

A place missionaries call home

June 26, 2012

Dear Praying Friends,

It is hard to believe that June is almost gone! I was looking outside this morning at a tree we planted several years ago, and now it is almost as tall as the house. Time goes so quickly.

We praise the Lord that the Rice House, our newest missionary home, is almost done. Lord willing, by this time next week, the carpet will be installed and it will be done! It has been a wonderful journey to watch how God has provided along the way. We continue to seek God daily to provide the finishing details.

We have three new families that have moved in since I last wrote. The Phillips are from Indonesia and Jennifer Foster is from Brazil. The Stockmans are going to South Africa. What a blessing to provide homes for 13 families. The new house will give us 14 homes.

Camp Glory Farm is coming along nicely. We are re-siding the barn and working on camping sites for our volunteers. Dallas & Gwen Davis have brought a camper here to help us during the week.

Last week was our first week of work groups. Our theme for this summer is "Dream It, Believe It, Let It Happen" and is based out of II Timothy 4:7. During camp last week, two teenagers accepted Christ as Savior and four of the teens rededicated their lives to the Lord. It was a wonderful week. Hermann Klaassen is camp director this year and our staff all worked hard. The church, Mebane Presbyterian, completed Phase II of their project of insulating and paneling the inside of the exercise room for the missionaries. We are working with another group to put in the glass for the entrance way.

Mark Saturday, August 11, 2012 on your calendar and make plans to join us for our 20th anniversary celebration here at Siloam Missionary Homes. We will have gospel music, bbq and a great time of fellowship.

Also, beginning after the pig pic'n in August, Joyce and I will be traveling to visit supporting churches. If you would like to have us share with you, a small group or your church, please contact us.

Thank you so much, dear friend, for your prayers, calls and your financial support for Siloam and for us. God proves Himself faithful every day as we serve Him, giving missionaries a place to call home.

Because of Christ,
