SILOAM MISSIONARY HOMES

Established February 1992
Became incorporated April 16, 1992
Received 501C Not-For-Profit tax exempt status from Federal IRS and the State of North Carolina in August 1992.

Siloam Missionary Homes is a ministry which provides temporary housing to foreign furloughing missionaries. They can stay from one day to 3 years, depending on the need. We do allow other Christian workers to stay as listed by priority in SMH Policies and Procedures.

HOW WE BEGAN

Larry was one of nine children raised in Michigan, in a Christian home that encouraged their children to go into full time Christian service. Joyce was raised in Brazil, her parents having been with New Tribes Mission for about 35 years. Larry and Joyce both attended New Tribes Bible Institute in Jackson, Mi., and were married in June of 1976. They have two daughters, Rachel and Abbey.

All of their married lives, they have had contact with a number of missionaries in all stages of mission work, whether in training for mission work, on furlough, or on deputation. They have come to love these people, and the work that they are involved in.

The Lord has laid a heavy burden on their hearts for missionary families. While visiting with one of several missionary families that stayed with them one summer, they realized how important it was a missionary family to have a place where they can go during furloughs to rest. A lot of them do not have a home to come to when here in the United States. Or maybe they just need a place to get away where they are not in someone's home. After much prayer, a board of directors was formed, and Siloam Missionary Homes became incorporated as a nonprofit ministry in 1992.

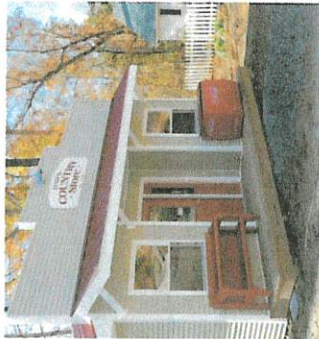

“To Help Those Who Have Made A Commitment To Spread God’s Word”

The family of David Johns, “Dad” of Dad’s Country Store, would like to thank the many individuals and groups who contribute the goods to fulfill the mission of the store. Thank you to the missionaries for the sacrifices they have made to carry out their work.

Papa's Workshop

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

Prov. 22:6

Several Saturdays ago, Mike, Henry and I went to Reidsville, NC to pick up wood working equipment.

These tools were donated to SMH by Ray Soyars' family. Ray's dad was the neighborhood car mechanic, bicycle repair man. The late Mr. Soyars was also a woodworker. According to Ray, his father enjoyed working with his hands. In our day he would be called "a man's man." He was a person who could figure out how to fix about anything he set his mind to.

Opening the garage door was like stepping back in time. Everything was still in its place, for the most part. Walking around the building, Ray would pick up a tool and tell us a story about something his dad had done with it. Even though we needed the equipment, I hated to dismantle the shop. I realized I was dismantling a part of Ray's memories of his dad. Over the top of Mr. Soyars' work bench was a hand made sign, which read Papa's Workshop."

After loading the truck, as I headed home, I started thinking about my dad. He, too, loved working with his hands. The greatest enjoyment both of these men would receive from their labor was the satisfaction of fixing something someone else was going to throw away. Their projects for family and friends required hours of work and could never be measured by money made.

In a generation of computer, high speed internet, and cell phones, we have lost something. Yes, we have taught our children to play soccer, to swim. We have given them video games and the latest gadgets. But, have we really taught them the basics? How to fix a car, change a tire, repair a broken bicycle? How about repair a broken kitchen drawer, or fix a leaky faucet? The Bible instructs us to train the younger generation. Today we are living longer, have more time than ever before. It gives granddads and grandmothers the awesome ability to teach the children and grandchildren. Once I heard someone say, "All we have is time." What a wonderful gift!

This summer we are using work groups to build a workshop — Papa's Workshop. This shop will fill a great need as our staff maintains the missionary homes and all the acres of lawns and woods. Our newest home is a tribute to Mike and Henry and the guys from Hines Chapel that took the red oak harvested off of our own property, stacked and dried it and cut it into boards for the woodwork on the house.

"For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother. He taught me also, and said unto me; let thine heart retain my words; keep my commandments and live. Get wisdom, get understanding; forget it not; neither decline from the words of my mouth." Prov 4:3-5

We are looking for people to help us complete Papa's Work Shop:

- Construction Workers — we will be putting up roof trusses Saturday, Sept 27th
- Donations appreciated

WMU HOUSE—2,700 sq. ft.

In 2006, the Mt. Zion WMU celebrated their 100 year anniversary. In order to commemorate this milestone, the WMU leadership team decided to help raise the funds to build a home at Siloam Missionary Homes.

This beautiful 2,700 sq. ft. home is dedicated in honor of the 100th anniversary of the Mt. Zion WMU and to the glory of God.

SIMMONS HOUSE 1,800 sq. ft.

In July 1997, construction began on the President's home, and was completed in November 1998. The home is located in the back corner of SMH property. This home houses the President and his family. The home was named in loving memory of Earl Jennings Simmons.

MICHAEL'S CORNER, the library within the Siloam Family Center, is named in honor of a young man, Michael Workman. Because of a car accident during his mother's pregnancy, the doctors gave the family little hope of his survival. However, through God's healing, Michael has defied the odds against him and is strong—both physically and mentally. He faces a bright future, but not without challenges. Teenage growth causes great strain on the kidneys, but he is a testimony to God's miraculous love.

Michael's grandfather, GRADY WORKMAN, JR. was a man who loved people. He is also memorialized in the Family Center.
